

AHCT website forum FAQs

What is the forum for?

It is for:

- 1) general AHCT/AHD announcements from La Jefa (Laura)
- 2) communication/announcements from/between AHCT team members
- 3) cajoling, challenging, ruminating, reminiscing, trash talking and/or mild harassing of other team members
- 4) posting pictures related to above
- 5) having fun
- 6) ultimately raising $$ for AHD

Who can post on the forum?

AHCT members

Who can see the forum posts?

Only those peeps who are logged in. The forum is intended to be private so you can write what you want and your non-AHCT friends, family members, neighbors, employers, employees can't see what you're prattling on about. Until, of course, they become members.

How do I log in?

Go to this page:

<http://andeanhealthcycling.org/forum/>

click login and enter your username and password.

How do I get a username and password?

Email Laura (laura.brown@andeanhealth.org) or Alicia (alicia.acker@andeanhealth.org) and give them your desired username (this will appear on your posts) and password and the email address you want to use. They'll enter it for you, you'll receive an email with your username and two links (one for resetting password and one for logging in) and you'll be good to go. Self-registration is disabled to prevent those icky, nasty, evil, horrid, evil, wicked, nasty spammers.

Can I use any username?

Eh, within reason unless it's already used. We encourage you to use a name that is descriptive (eg, hugequads, chickenlegs, MeAlpha, facho, tricyclist) or you can use your real name (boring).

Can I get notified when peeps post on the forum?

Certainly and we strongly encourage it! Otherwise how would you know that you've been challenged/insulted/trash talked, etc? To get immediate notifications emailed to you:

- 1) Visit the forum page and log in with the username and password you established with Laura or Alicia.
- 2) Click on the "Subscriptions" tab.
- 3) Choose the type of subscription you want.
 - a. For minimal notifications, click individual subscriptions. If you click "individual subscriptions," you'll have to subscribe to each topic to get notifications. Choose this if you'll be a frequent visitor and hate email bloat.
 - b. If you're lonely and/or love a stuffed email box, click "new topics" or "new topics and posts." You'll be notified every time someone blows their nose ... errr, writes a post.

Can I be banned from the forum?

Don't push your luck. You could be fined by the forum police.

Can I post a picture of my dog/cat/gerbil/chicken/bunny/squirrel/etc. on the forum?

Yes, but only if it's riding a bicycle or wearing an AHCT jersey or drinking from an AHCT or Satellite Team mug, or in some way displaying an AHD, AHCT or Satellite Team logo.

Anything else I should know?

Yes, there is. The blog posts on the AHCT site (generally from La Jefa) will automatically appear in the AHCT forum. So if you subscribe to the forum, you'll be notified of the blog posts.
